

Alaska Statute 16.35.200. Use of poison to kill predatory animals.

A department, other state agency, or person may not use poison to kill predatory animals without first obtaining the written consent of the appropriate board.